CREATING THE COQUINA CASTILLO

For more than 300 years an imposing structure has protected St. Augustine's harbor. Built under Spanish rule, the Castillo de San Marcos stands as the oldest masonry fort in the continental United States! Come learn of the fort's storied history and the firm foundations upon which it is built. Kids will construct their own miniature Castillo.

THE COPPER PIECES OF LAKE JACKSON

Archaeologists have uncovered copper items at several pre-historic sites in Florida including the Lake Jackson site. Copper is not found naturally in Florida, and had to come from hundreds of miles away! Come learn of this material's significance and how it made it all the way to Florida. Kids will create their own decorative pieces to take home.
